Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: US-A-5448028

2. The present application does not meet the requirements of Article 6 PCT for the following reasons:

- 2.1 The expressions "having an outer surface manufactured by using a two-shot molding technique", cf. claim 1 and the features of claim 3 relate to a method of producing the an interior trim component. Under reference to the new PCT Guidelines as in force from 25.03.2004, Part II, Chapter 5.26, such claims are admissible only if the products as such fulfill the requirements of novelty (Articles 33(2) PCT). A product is not rendered novel merely by the fact that it is produced by a new process.
3. The following statements are made under reference to paragraph 2 of the present report:
 - 3.1 Document D1, cf. col. 3, lines 1-36 and figures discloses an interior trim component having an outer surface, comprising a first portion (2) made of a first rigid material (24), a second portion (26) made of a second, flexible material and including one or more switch elements (34); and a circuit assembly (38, 44, 42, 46) in communication with said one ore more switch elements, wherein actuation of said one ore more switch elements actuates said circuit assembly.

Therefore the subject-matter of claim 1 is, for as far as understandable (see paragraph 2.1 of the present report), not new and claim 1 does not meet the requirements of Article 33(2) PCT.

- 3.2 Dependent claims 2-8 do not contain any features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty and inventive step, since their additional features are known from D1.
